

Unleash your business potential

Process digitization in an instant

The challenges of tomorrow

Today, companies need to master ever-greater and more complex challenges, as well as responding as quickly as possible to key customer and market requirements. In order to do so successfully, they need the support of agile software. Because only if organizations are able to adapt to important changes quickly and in a targeted manner will they be in a position to facilitate the necessary innovations and thus differentiate themselves from the competition.

IT departments face the challenge of reacting quickly and flexibly to the needs of their internal customers, while simultaneously preserving the integrity of mature central systems. However, fast-paced digitization requires the modification of a wide range of processes, such as master data definition, invoice verification, and approval of IT modifications. Implementing digitization frequently requires an immense effort, as standard software is not capable of mapping the processes, thus creating a necessity for unwanted workarounds.

Sooner or later, you will be faced with a crucial test. Managing an increasing number of actions and reactions in ever-shorter turnaround times is not possible using the rigid means and methods of yesterday. Only when the methods employed achieve the right combination of control and flexibility can they contribute to unlocking your business potential.

Business. In Tune.

Metasonic is next-generation business software which provides you with the right tools for highly agile business activities. Thanks to its intuitive approach, all users can design their own processes and adapt them on an ongoing basis. This leads to high commitment, and frees up IT resources. Flexible modules enable you to create tailored solutions quickly and easily, and also to adapt them again and again during operation.

From the first productive day onwards, tailored solutions deliver the relevant key performance indicators and enable you to monitor their continuous evolution. The advantages for you: Your employees are more dedicated, your organization is freed from many restrictions, and your ERP system does not have to deviate from the standard.

Even renowned companies such as Audi, NEC, Hitachi and Swisscom have already recognized this, and have successfully implemented Metasonic.

Metasonic allows you to maximize the benefits of your ERP system and unleash your business potential: Design your workflows flexibly without bending your ERP!

Revolutionary approach

Using Metasonic, each business department describes its processes by itself. The resulting process models can be executed immediately, and can be turned into web applications in just a few clicks. The web applications are ready for use immediately, and can be adapted at any time. This means that you are easily able to coordinate with your colleagues, share expertise, and create the software solutions you need. Our approaches are playful, and our concepts are simple. This will encourage you to try out new capabilities.

In other words: We provide you with plenty of space for new, innovative solutions which can be implemented quickly.

Successful results follow quickly, and the adaption options are infinite. All of this makes Metasonic your tool of your choice.

“It has never been so easy to create and link business applications. Our platform creates transparent, secure processes that are brought to life through a dynamic communication flow. The result is goal-oriented, efficient collaboration with optimal time-to-market and reduced costs - the best basis for growth and success.”

Metasonic from the perspective of your employees

Metasonic empowers every employee to design their own processes using playful methods. The applications created in this way can be repeatedly modified, expanded and adjusted at any time. Even complex contexts and IT constraints can be presented simply and intuitively. Thus, each and every one of your employees can try something new and feel good about making a contribution.

Metasonic from the perspective of the IT department

Metasonic transforms your IT department from a bottleneck into a business catalyst. You will be able to integrate specialist users into the system design better than ever, and you will be able to understand and fulfil their needs with unprecedented speed and efficiency. The existing IT functionality is easy to manage, and can be quickly recomposed. In addition, Metasonic also combines the strengths of standardization and tailored development. You can make existing standard software more flexible and quickly develop new solutions. All models can be executed immediately, and can be adapted and expanded as often as necessary.

Metasonic from a management perspective

We provide you with the toolset you need for the rapid implementation and adaptation of your business models. Highly dedicated employees and an IT department free from restrictions unleash the full potential locked within your business. Your business departments are able to design innovative IT solutions which enable you to occupy new market positions rapidly. You can experiment with these solutions, adapt them and analyse their performance on an ongoing basis. In this way, you remain the market leader. Metasonic allows you to continuously improve your performance during operation, relying on actual practical experience.

The advantages at a glance

- Focus is on employee communication
- Fast and flexible implementation of specific workflows while adhering to the ERP standard
- Simple means for expanding the cloud functionality
- Simple graphic illustration of complex approval processes and their adaptation
- Transparency with respect to the workflow status
- Attractive, intuitive user interface
- Compliance is built into processes right from the start
- Process logic can immediately be verified interactively and executed in a process portal
- Seamless integration into the existing IT landscape
- High degree of employee motivation, as all employees are able to react flexibly and quickly to changes
- Attractive entry point via the Allgeier SaaS licensing model
- High economic benefits: Suppose that for each process adaptation you save 10 hours at an hourly rate of 100 euros. Consequently, 1,000 adaptations or new process launches per year would result in total savings of 1,000,000 euros!

“I didn’t think that a tool existed that is as simple and as flexible as Metasonic, neither in Japan nor in the rest of the world. The Metasonic suite is extremely fast. Immediately after the modeling is complete, the application is ready and you can run it directly. The suite is very user-friendly and very flexible despite its simplicity. The Metasonic suite is a tool with great depth. In addition, the operational effort is extremely low, meaning that we can use the time saved to consider new activities together with our customers. In this way, the Metasonic suite delivers a high-quality infrastructure.”
